Miss Henry had several entertainments given for her last winter, and was one of the prominent debutantes of the season.

Mr. Graham is the only brother of Mrs. Jay Gould, who was Miss Annie Douglas Graham, and is a descendant of an old Hawaiian family, some of whom ruled the Sandwich Islands before the present dynasty reigned.—York Times, Oct. 28.

Social Notes

Among the many Halloween parties was one given by Mrs. C. F. Merrill Thursday evening at which were entertained the members of the Palolo Social Club. This was the first meeting of the club in a number of months and a jolly good time was had.

The guests arriving were greeted with fiery jack-o'-lanterns hung through the garden, and at the door a monster with eyes of fire nodded a welcome. It was assisted in this function by a ghastly goblin.

The rooms were decorated throughout with yellow pumpkin flowers and a number of the drop-lights were surrounded by paper pumpkins that grinned and leered as each passing current of air went by.
